

Destinations by Design, Inc. Move Into New Office to Accommodate Growth and Expansion

LAS VEGAS, NV., June 14, 2016 -- Destinations by Design, Inc. a Las Vegas based destination management and event company, is proud to announce that as of April 1, 2016, they have moved their operations to a new, larger facility which will support its current business and growth for the future. The new location for Destinations by Design is at 7608 W. Teco Ave, Las Vegas, NV 89113, conveniently located just off of the 215 Beltway and Buffalo. The company now has space for its 100 plus employees, which includes their event warehouse, production studio, entertainment rehearsal space, creative department, graphics department and floral studio as well as sales and operations. Moving all departments to one location has been a goal that the company is pleased to have achieved, while continuing to execute programs and events without missing a beat.

"DBD's new office space will allow us to increase our capabilities in key areas that align with our current and future growth plans, while further developing our culture, technology, and talent," said Joyce Sherman, president, Destinations by Design.

Originally completed by the Las Vegas division of Panattoni Development Company in 2011 for US Micro Corp, the 132,000 sq. ft. location provides employees with a lively, fun working environment that reflects the business culture at Destinations by Design. While much of the original office is the same, a number of changes were made to complement the style and aesthetic that Destinations by Design is known for. The spacious front lobby welcomes visitors and clients with a floor-to-ceiling glass entryway along with a spiral staircase that accentuates the 24-foot tall, two-story lobby atrium. DBD staff contributed witty motivational phrases that adorn each step as you make your way to the 2nd floor. The office design features sustainable environmental choices including: on-site renewable energy through photovoltaic panels, storm water collection, drought tolerant landscaping and daylighting. The facility was a recipient of the 2012 NAIOP Economic Development Impact Award, and ENR Southwest recognized the project as the Best Industrial/Warehouse project in 2012.
